

○Event information in October 2017

【Report】

Orientation for Graduate International Students in autumn

The orientation for graduate international students enrolled in autumn was held on the 29th of September 2017 (Friday) from 13:30 at International Exchange Salon. 30 new students along with faculty members and members of international exchange group Science Buddy, 45 people in total attended the orientation. The member of International Exchange Committee, Professor Takashi KUBO gave welcome remarks and then the faculty staffs explained the international students supporting system of Graduate School of Science, tips on living, and procedures of enrollments all in English

Welcome Party for International Students Enrolled in autumn

On the 12th of October 2017, started at 18:00, the welcome party for international students enrolled in autumn was held. 59 foreigners from 20 countries/regions and 29 Japanese, in total 88 people attended and all of them mingled and enjoyed each other's conversation.

Orientation for International Student Tutor in autumn

On the 11th of October 2017, started at 12:10, the Orientation for international student tutor was held in International Exchange Salon of Graduate School of Science. 34 tutors attended the guidance. The international student advisor, Associate Professor TAK Yon-soo talked about the responsibility and activity of tutors, and a staff from Office for International Students explained administrative procedures

